

WHSTEP OIL SPILL FORUM

for Students (Grades 4–12) and their Parents

Come hear and talk to scientists and educators who have been in the Gulf of Mexico.

WEDNESDAY,
OCTOBER 13, 2010
7:00–8:00 P.M.

Falmouth High School Auditorium
Gifford Street, Falmouth

Introduction and Moderator:

Judy Fenwick, WHOI Deep Submergence Lab

Panel:

John Pohlman, USGS Research Geochemist

Chris Reddy, WHOI Marine Chemist

Rich Camilli, WHOI Chemical Engineer

Dana Yoerger, WHOI Mechanical Engineer

Barbara Dougan, National Park Service
Education Specialist and Public Information
Officer, Unified Command

Followed by Q&A session for students to ask questions

Sponsored by:

Woods Hole Science and Technology Education Partnership (WHSTEP), established in 1989, is a partnership of schools, scientific institutions, businesses, and community resources supporting, promoting and expanding science, math, and technology education and science literacy in the participating communities of Falmouth (including Woods Hole), Mashpee, and Bourne, Massachusetts. <http://www.whoi.edu/whstep/>

Photos courtesy of: Rich Camilli (top, middle-right and bottom), Andy Billings (middle-left), and Christopher Reddy (bottom-left).