

Alan Alda Center
for Communicating Science

AT STONY BROOK UNIVERSITY

Science Communication Workshop

Monday, October 24th, 2016; 8:00 AM – 5:30 PM

Marine Biological Laboratory, Swope Center, Woods Hole, MA

- Learn to communicate more effectively about science with people outside your field, including the general public, policy makers, the media, students, potential employers or funders or prospective collaborators in other disciplines.
- Participate in a workshop pioneered by Alan Alda called “improvisation for scientists” and small group break-out sessions that focus on “distilling your message”
- Space limited to 32 participants on a first-come, first-serve basis. Reduced rates for students ($100) and NACSETAC members ($200). Registration through <http://nacsetac.org/2016-science-communication-workshop/>
- Registration includes lunch, morning and afternoon coffee breaks
