

FAMILY SCIENCE NIGHT : SALT MARSH EXPLORERS!

Join Taniya RoyChowdhury, PhD soil microbial ecologist at Woodwell Climate Research Center, for a fun evening in the marsh! We will learn about the fragility and importance of these unique ecosystems and examine marsh species and the microscopic soil life that keeps them thriving. Get ready to roll up your sleeves for hands-on exploration, discover how coastal wetlands protect our coastlines and climate, and see real field research in action.
